

Road accident? Stay calm!

This checklist will help you.

1. Stop the vehicle

- Switch on your hazard warning lights and your headlights (dipped).
- If you are using a freeway (motorway, Autobahn), immediately drive onto the hard shoulder if at all possible.
- Put a high-visibility vest on.
- Go to a safe place away from the highway.

2. Assess the situation

- Are you unhurt? Are you feeling alright?
- How many vehicles were involved in the accident? Note the types and locations of the vehicles.
- Has anyone been injured?
- Is there a danger of fire or explosion; are hazardous goods involved?

3. Secure the accident site

- Set up your warning triangle at least 50 meters from the site of the accident, or if the traffic is moving quickly, at least 100 meters away.
- It is not permitted to move anything at the scene of the accident unless this is essential in order to protect injured people or for the safety of other road users.
- Do not step back onto the road.

4. Give first aid

- Remove injured persons from the danger zone.
- Provide first aid, using the first-aid kit in your car.

5. Alert the emergency services

- Call the police (117), the ambulance service (144) or, in case of fire, the fire department (118). In the EU, the emergency number is 112.
- Indicate your precise location. Freeway (motorway, Autobahn): Number, direction of travel, kilometers, last junction or exit).

6. Attend to the injured

- Take care of any injured people, monitor them and talk to them.

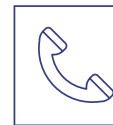

7. Document the damage to the vehicle

- Photograph the damaged vehicles, if possible from all sides.

How to fill out the European Accident Report form:

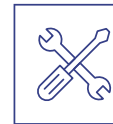

- Make clear statements.
- Never assume all the blame.
- Note the names and addresses of witnesses.
- Don't forget to sign on the front of the form.
- If in doubt or if you are having trouble with people involved, insist on calling the police.

Report the damage to AXA. It's this easy:

Phone us immediately:
0800 809 809, or +41 58 218 11 00
if calling from abroad.
We'll advise you over the phone
about what to do next.

We'll also give you all the key information:
about your coverage, the damage repair, and
our service offering.

We're happy to organize and
coordinate the repair for you.
You'll then benefit from AXA's excellent partner network with its exclusive service offering and guarantees.

You can find all the key documents, claims adjustments,
your contracts and more in the myAXA customer portal at any time.

If you forget any of these things, you could be liable for a fine abroad:

- No CH sticker on your car; fine in Italy of up to EUR 400
- No high-visibility vests for passengers: fine in Austria of up to EUR 150
- No replacement bulbs: fine in France of up to EUR 180
- No checks on tire profile or pressure: fine in Germany of up to EUR 200
- Keep to speed limits: penalties in the EU have been raised

www.axa.ch
24-hour hotline:
0800 809 809
(from Switzerland)
+41 58 218 11 00
(from abroad)
Customer portal:
www.myaxa.ch