AIA reporting duty: CRS-I form

The Foundation has been satisfying automatic exchange of information (AEOI) requirements since 2019. It reports to the Principality of Liechtenstein Tax Administration all insureds, including the level of their accrued retirement savings, as well as every payment for an insured event.

For this reason, we need to know the tax residency of each person who is insured by the Foundation to be provided by way of self-certification.

We kindly ask you to inform your staff and to urge them to submit the CRS-I form for self-certification of an individual's tax residency (if they haven't done so already).

Insureds who have a connection with the United States (U.S. citizens, Green Card holders, working in the United States, married to a U.S. citizen, etc.) are required to report their US Tax Identification Number (TIN).

The form is available on the Foundation's website: CRS - I: CRS-I form for self-certification of an individual's tax residency
